The Team

The Innovator and the Entrepreneur are the only ones that can start a Team. Either together or by themselves. There is different plan for how many teams you can start or be a member of.

From the Team, a member can invite and match with an CTO, CFO or a SMO to join the Team. These roles are most likely needed. There can be several of each role in a Team. You always must match before joining a Team.

The team can then search, communicate, and invite a Coach if needed to the Team. A coach can be in form of any person or company that coaches, helps the Startup Team with advice and services.

Most startup teams need founding. Therefore, a Team can search, communicate, and invite an Investor to the Team. An Investor is a person, company or institution that funds startups with returns of a stake in the company. It can also be persons, companies and institutions that give out loans to startups. A team can have several Investors since this may be the scene sometimes.
